

---

NANDI 2027

A PROPOSAL

Making the record

Where your campaign stands today,
and the part of it I can build.

01

WHERE WE ARE

Four years of delivery. Almost none of it on paper.

---

5

Months until UDA nominations decide this race

---

54%

Of Nandi has not chosen a candidate yet

---

0

Of your programmes have published outcome data

Coffee, scholarships, the tournament, the ambulance, the cheques – all real, all delivered, none of it in a form a voter, a journalist or a doubter can check.

02

THE SYMPTOM

Right now, other people are doing this job for you.

Views on TikTok clips of you speaking. Four of the top five are other people's uploads of your own footage.

They are doing it without your context, without your framing, and without asking. When something goes wrong, the clip that travels is the one they cut.

03

ALREADY STARTED

I have done the first part unpaid, so you can judge the work.

14 groups

Nandi Facebook forums read from the inside, post by post, including the comment threads

204 comments

One preference thread tallied by hand to see who people actually name

28 lines

Kalenjin comments pulled out verbatim and put to a native speaker for translation

4 documents

A full strategic dossier, a film treatment, a content plan and a translation brief

It turned up things worth knowing: what oripoo actually means, how small the Nandi Hills story really is, a second opinion poll nobody had cited, and the hard question one resident has already published about your programmes.

Every gap here happens to be something I do.

| WHAT IS MISSING                                                |   | WHAT I BRING                                                                  |
|----------------------------------------------------------------|---|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Other people own the footage of you speaking                   | → | Same-day capture and editVIDEOGRAPHY · SOUND                       |
| Programmes recorded as giveaways, never as outcomes            | → | Documentary and testimony libraryVIDEO · INTERVIEWING · RESEARCH   |
| Nothing you post is recognisable as yours by sight             | → | One visual identity, applied everywhereGRAPHIC DESIGN · BRAND      |
| Posts published with no caption, losing most of their reach    | → | A publishing system with a weekly rhythmDIGITAL · CONTENT PLANNING |
| No single place where a claim can be checked                   | → | Evidence site and programme databaseWEB DEVELOPMENT · DATA         |
| Strong arguments sitting unused inside county budget documents | → | Charts and explainers people understandDATA VISUALISATION · DESIGN |

05

FIRST BUILD

THE FILM

A payment slip with a woman's name on it.

A documentary on Kahawa na Mama. Not a profile of you — a record of what the programme did. Trees planted in 2023 are bearing right now, and that three-year change can be filmed this season and never again.

Camera, sound, interviews, edit, subtitles, grade. I do all of it myself.

Screened across the six sub-counties in January, in halls, before it ever goes online.

THE RHYTHM

Something true, every week, until nominations.

One short video a week, each ending on a single fact with its source on screen. Plus same-day clips from every public appearance, so your words travel with your context attached rather than someone else's edit.

Captioned, always. That alone is the difference between 80,500 views and 802.

Filming, editing, captioning, scheduling and publishing — handled, so your job stays the part you are best at: speaking to people.

THE EVIDENCE BASE

One place that answers the doubters for you.

Sourced figures

Beneficiaries by ward, partners, funding, dates — each with where it came from.

The archive

Full speeches and farmer interviews, searchable, so journalists quote your version.

The system behind it

A database your office updates, so the site stays true without me in the room.

Built so it outlasts the campaign and belongs to your office, not to me.

Five months, and I know what each one is for.

One date to confirm this week: when the coffee harvest actually starts locally. The whole schedule follows it.

What I would need from you.

- Access — to your diary, your programme records and the people who ran them
- An introduction to four or five farmers, and to the cooperative
- Permission to film freely at public events, including the ones that go badly
- A decision that the honest numbers get published, even where they are lower than we hoped
- One person in your office who owns the day-to-day publishing with me

I am not asking to run your campaign.
I am asking to make your record visible — starting with the film, because the trees are bearing now and that will not wait.